

About Our Doctor

Bradley D. Taylor, D.O.

Bradley D. Taylor, D.O. is a refractive surgeon affiliated with TLC Laser Eye Centers in Oklahoma City. Being a trained cornea expert, he has devoted much of his time to studying refractive procedures since 1992. In addition to refractive surgery, Dr. Taylor performs a broad array of ophthalmic microsurgery, including advanced “no-shot, no-stitch, no-patch” cataract surgery for glaucoma and reconstructive surgery of the eyelids.

Education

After graduating Cum Laude from Texas Christian University with a Bachelor of Biology, Dr. Taylor went on to receive his Doctor of Osteopathic Medical Degree with honors from Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Worth.

His intern and residency training was performed at the Tulsa Regional Hospital in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He completed a fellowship in cornea and external disease at the University of Texas in Houston in 1988. After returning to Oklahoma, where he spent his childhood, Dr. Taylor became one of the primary surgeons in a thriving ophthalmology practice, where he established an excellent reputation.

Memberships/Accomplishments

Dr. Taylor is Board Certified by the American Osteopathic Board of Ophthalmology, and is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology, the American Osteopathic Association, the American Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgeons, the Eye Bank Association of America, and has recently been named Co-Medical Director of the Lions Eye Bank.
